The system platform for "Rittal – The System." is the TS 8 enclosure, which can also be used as an IT rack. The Rittal portfolio also includes a wide range of enclosure types, from small cases and compact enclosures, through to entire enclosure systems.

In the field of power distribution, "Rittal – The System.", together with the switchgear system Ri4Power and the power distribution system RiLine, provides a reliable power supply to suit virtually all applications.

All electrical equipment generates heat – but the climate control solutions ensure that heat loss from the components is efficiently removed. Rittal's product portfolio ranges from the perfect fan-and-tiler unit for industrial enclosures, through to sophisticated cooling concepts for IT infrastructures.

Whether you opt for a micro-data centre as a stand-alone solution for SMEs, or a complete data centre, Rittal can supply concepts and products in any size to suit your IT infrastructure.
